

Amazon River Dolphin (Inia geoffrensis)

The Amazon River dolphin comes in all shades of pink, from a dull gray-pink, to rosy colored pink, to a bright pink like that of the flamingo. This color variation is due to the clarity of the water in which the dolphin lives; the darker the water, the pinker the dolphin will be. Found throughout South America, specifically in the Amazon River system as well as the Orinoco River system. Protect the habitat of the Amazon River dolphin , visit <http://www.rainforest-alliance.org/programs/aar>.