WE'RE ALL IN

Intro

We're All In is our new brand creative platform and will provide the basis for our future campaigns. It embodies our brand narrative—a global movement that embraces the power of collective action for change.

Why We're All In? From climate change and spiraling biodiversity loss to systemic rural poverty, interconnected crises threaten our future. We feel the urgency, but pessimism, that little voice in our head, often stops us from taking action. That is why the message of our campaign is Pessimism is out. We're All In.

When we all join forces, together we become an unstoppable force for change. To get this message out there, the first campaign on our new platform revolves around a comedic short film where our inspiring hero tells pessimism to frog off!

WE'RE ALL IN

Intro

This is where YOU come in. We're asking you to join our alliance of farming and forest communities, companies, governments, NGOs, and individuals who are all working relentlessly to tackle the climate crisis, protect forests, and improve rural livelihoods.

We're All In is also a platform for partner brands to showcase their efforts of collective action and inspire consumers to live more sustainably.

All our partners are invited to join the campaign and spread the key message across their networks.

WE'RE ALL IN

Ready- to-Use Messaging

We've put together a handy messaging toolkit that's ready to plug and play across your social channels.

You're also very welcome to personalize the copy to show what "We're All In" means to you as a brand/retailer or how you are working with the Rainforest Alliance.

Please tag us on social media (Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn) or link to the We're All In webpage in English, German, Dutch, French, Spanish, Portuguese, Indonesian, and Japanese.

WE'RE ALL IN

We're All In! 🐸 That's why we're a proud partner of the Rainforest Alliance. Help us spread the word: Pessimism is OUT and hope is making a comeback.
